California Air Resources Board (CARB) Compliance EPA Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA Title VI)

Structural Plywood and Structural Composite Lumber (LVL) are specifically exempted from the new CARB / TSCA Title VI ruling because the emissions from these products are negligible. Exempt laminated products are those products that are made with phenol-formaldehyde (PF) resin or No-Added Formaldehyde (NAF) resin. Pacific Wood Laminates, Inc. employs resin technologies which exhibit negligible emissions. We use No-Added Urea Formaldehyde (NAUF) in our manufacturing and laminating processes. In some instances, secondary processing to produce specialty wood components may require that we outsource certain composite wood products. Any composite wood product that is outsourced by Pacific Wood Laminates, and is governed by CARB / TSCA Title VI is verified to be compliant with the new CARB / TSCA Title VI ruling.
